Teamwork. Worked as part of 3-man photography team taking pictures for upload to our e-commerce database.

Communication. Working part-time as a sales assistant at a newspaper outlet exposed me to a wide range of customers that I had to serve and attend to their complaints and this helped me improve my listening and communication skills. Fairly confident and comfortable with written communication writing essays.

Time management. While working in the photography, I had to manage time for myself and other members and ensure completion of work at the desired time which had a very tight deadline.
